Historic Longmont offers an array of cultural and educational sites. Located just north of Denver, this charming community provides an ideal gateway to Colorado historic places ? just waiting to be explored.

- Historic Downtown
 - In 1870, a group of railroad investors from Chicago sold shares in a community in northern Colorado?s St. Vrain Valley - the next year, they chartered the town of Longmont, named for Longs Peak directly to the west, as the Chicago-Colorado Colony
 - Today, classic buildings in the Downtown Longmont District house nearly 300 businesses and organizations on gracious, tree-lined streets
 - Thousands of people visit Downtown for parades, art events and festivals for the whole family
 - From lunchtime to special events, Downtown Longmont brings the community together
- St. Vrain Historical Society
 - Promotes historic education and preservation in Longmont and the surrounding St. Vrain Valley
- Hover Home
 - Elegant, English Tudor, Gothic Revival home of Charles and Katherine Hover, was constructed in 1913-1914
 - During the 70 years the Hovers and their adopted daughter Beatrice resided at Hover Home, the property was carefully maintained and remains in excellent condition
 - This distinctive home was constructed at a cost of approximately $25,000, completed in June 1914
 - Old Mill Park
- Contains original buildings, plantings, and artifacts
- Has been designated a landmark by the City of Longmont
 - Old St. Stephen's Church

- Built in 1881 as the first home for the congregation of St. Stephen's Episcopal parish
- Congregation of 45 communicants held their first services in their new church on Palm Sunday in April 1882
- Designated a local historic landmark and also listed on the National Register of Historic Places
